

Secondary Teacher Education Program Keynote Speaker

Indigenous Knowledge, Education and Ethnic Identity

Dr. Patricio R. Ortiz, USU

Thursday, November 12th 10:15 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.

This event is being broadcast from the USU Roosevelt Campus.

"By exploring the interaction of federal land policies and identity formation, Dr. Ortiz provides a probing and intellectually useful theoretical framework to study cultural change."

Martha Menchaca,
Professor of Anthropology
University of Texas at Austin

This event will be broadcast to the following USU campuses:

Roosevelt: RM 130

Price: RM 132

Blanding: RM E

Ephraim: RM A

Brigham City: RM 110

Tooele: RM 110

Salt Lake: RM A

Moab: RM 123

Logan: TSC 336

Join us and experience the interactive video conferencing system unique to USU!

About the Author

Patricio R. Ortiz (Ph.D.) is assistant professor of ESL/ bilingual and multicultural education at Utah State University.

His research and writing focuses on indigenous education, migration, bilingualism and culturally and linguistically diverse student populations in the USA and Latin America.

Sponsored by: The School of Teacher Education and Leadership, Utah State University – Uintah Basin, Regional Campus and Distance Education, and the Secondary Teacher Education Program